Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 19 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy, becoming windy with outbreaks of rain arriving. Mild.

Today:
Mainly fine during this morning, with perhaps some hazy sunshine. Then becoming cloudy, with outbreaks of rain arriving, although many places will remain dry. Becoming mild, after a locally chilly start, although temperatures will be offset by the windy conditions. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying cloudy, windy and mild, although many places will become dry as most of the rain moves away. Strong winds along the coast. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Saturday:
Dry and rather cloudy for eastern areas, although some brighter spells could develop. Cloudier further west with perhaps occasional light rain, but still many places will remain dry. Breezy. Mild. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday outbreaks of rain gradually fading away, with light winds. Monday dull with further spells of rain likely. Tuesday probably dry, breezy and bright. Mild, becoming very mild Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.